

HENRY GROPPÉ

Henry Groppe is a partner and founder in 1955 of Groppe, Long & Littell, a Houston based consulting firm providing long term forecasting, planning and development for the energy industry. He has had 55 years of technical, economic and management experience in the hydrocarbon and petrochemical industries. He was with Dow Chemical, Monsanto, Texaco, and Arabian American Oil Company (in Saudi Arabia) before establishing his consulting firm.

He is a Chemical Engineering graduate of The University of Texas and served as an officer in the U.S. Navy.

Mr. Groppe is a director of Tom Brown, Inc., a founder and chairman of Antara Resources, Inc., a former director of Transco Energy Company, a former director and founder of Space Industries, Inc., a founder of Southwest Chemical and Plastics Company and former director of First City Energy Finance Company. He has served as a charter member of the Texas Governor's Energy Advisory Council and a director of the United States Energy Association (the U.S. Member Committee of the World Energy Council).

Mr. Groppe has served as Chairman of the University of Texas Engineering Foundation Advisory Council and on the Board of Overseers of Sweet Briar College, board chairman of the Contemporary Arts Museum of Houston and a founder and president of the Houston Council on Human Relations. He is a founder and director of the Preventive Medicine Research Institute and founder and president of Southwest Health Technology Foundation.

Mr. Groppe is a distinguished graduate of the University of Texas College of Engineering and a Fellow of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.